

Activity 2. Card Sort Exercise

You should work your way through the exercise by selecting a card from the pack and placing it in order of relevance to you in the appropriate category. When using the electronic version of this exercise, clicking on a card, whether in the pack or in the categories list, enlarges the text for viewing purposes. You should work through the exercise individually and you may wish to do this exercise several times before you make a final decision about what you feel is most relevant to you. When you are satisfied with your choices, either print the completed list or make a note of three of the cards you have chosen to place in the ‘very urgent’ category. You should then discuss with another student the choices in your list and the steps you will take to achieve the aims.

If you are using the paper version of this activity you should work in pairs or a small group. Each of you should take turns to work your way through the exercise and when you are satisfied with your choices make a note of three cards from your ‘very urgent’ category. You should then discuss the choices in your list and the steps you will take to achieve the aims.

Write a short report (approximately half a page) on your three chosen cards. Include in your report the steps you will take to achieve the aims. If you are already taking steps, outline what you are doing and how you could develop further.
